

ABOUT TAMIL NADU POLICE

The administrative control of Tamil Nadu Police vests with the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu who holds the portfolio of Home Minister. The supervision and coordination of Police is done by the Home Department Govt. of Tamil Nadu. The modern Tamil Nadu Police Force, is over 150 years old. It is the fifth largest State Police Force in India.

The Force, headed by the Director General of Police, is responsible for maintenance of law and order and prevention and detection of crimes in an area spanning 130058 sq. Kms with a population of over 7.21 crores (provisional) as per the Census 2011. Tamil Nadu has a coastline of 1076 Kms. State is divided into convenient territorial divisions called Zones, ranges with a number of districts constitute the range. District police is further sub-divided into police divisions, circles and police-stations. The State is divided into 4 Police Zones - North, Central, West and South. Each Zone is headed by one Inspector General of Police. In each of the 7 Metropolitan Cities of Tamil Nadu, the City Police force is headed by a Commissioner of Police. These cities are -- Chennai, Chennai Sub-Urban, Madurai, Coimbatore, Tiruchirapalli, Salem and Tirunelveli. There are 33 Police districts including 2 railway districts in Tamil Nadu, each headed by a Superintendent of Police. In each City and District, the Commissioner of Police / Superintendent of Police has, besides the civil police force, an Armed Reserve of Police personnel. One Deputy Inspector General (DIG) of police supervises the work of 2-3 districts, which constitute a Police Range. There are Twelve (including 1 Railway Range) Ranges in Tamil Nadu.

Besides the civil police, state also maintains its own armed police and have separate intelligence branches, crime branches, etc. Police set-up in big cities like Delhi, Kolkata, Mumbai, Chennai, Bangalore, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, Nagpur, Pune, etc. is directly under a Commissioner of Police who enjoys magisterial powers. All senior police posts in various states are manned by the Indian Police Services (IPS) cadres, recruitment to which is made on all-India basis.

Rank-wise information on 'Sanctioned' as well as 'Actual' and "vacancy" in police strength in the State are presented in table.

Police manpower alone is not sufficient to curb the crime unless they are motivated and facilitated with basic necessities such as equipment, transport, housing, medical insurance, free education for children, etc. Therefore, an attempt has been made to compile auxiliary information such as availability of housing facility to various categories of police officials, availability of vehicles and sophisticated gadgets with the police, etc.

Information on the availability of police housing facility districtwise & unitwise against the sanctioned police force for different categories is presented in table.

Motor Vehicle details viz. 2 wheelers, 3 wheelers, 4 wheelers, vans, buses, lorries, ambulances, lockup vans, prisoner escorts, etc. available with police all over Tamilnadu to enable them to perform their duties efficiently is presented in table under "police fleet strength".

The zonewise, rangewise, city/districtwise details on sub-divisions, police stations, outposts & All Women Police Stations all over Tamilnadu are presented in table.

Just as the crime incidence in an area is a deceptive pointer to the crime situation, the absolute strength of police personnel is also not a true indicator of the magnitude of crime and its combating machinery as well as performance of other assigned tasks by police. Number of policemen per 100 sq. kms and per lakh of population are considered to be important indicators in planning for their deployment. The State-wise availability of police strength by various parameters is presented in table.

Armed Police:

The Battalion was originally formed as Special Armed Police II Battalion and was raised in a short notice on 21.11.1962 in the wake of the Chinese Aggression on India. After this, it was reformed as Reserved Armed Police by replacement of 8 Companies of Malabar Special Police and Special Armed Police with its Head quarters at Manimuthar. On the eve of reorganization of state on linguistic basis, the Malabar Special Police was divided into two, one for Kerala and the other for Madras state. The Headquarters of MSP or (Madras state) Tamilnadu was shifted to Trichy for maintaining the law and orders situation as per GO No. 4112(Home) Dept dt. 07.11.1947. The erstwhile Madras state came to be called as “Tamilnadu “ as per GO. Ms .No. 2051 dated 03.08.1972. The MSP and SAP battalions of this state were renamed as Tamilnadu Special Police Battalions. The police personnel are being deputed for duty all over Tamilnadu to assist the local police in Law and Order duty, coastal security duty, Central prison guard duty etc., and the companies are moved to various places, as per the orders of the Director General of Police and Additional Director of Police, Armed Police, Chennai then and there. When the companies are in Head Quarters, they will attend to routine physical training, parade movements and Arms cleaning duties.

* Due to non-availability of actual police strength from Madhya Pradesh state, the sanctioned police strength has been taken equal to actual police strength.

There has been variation in sanctioned police strength (women only) from Rajasthan State and sanctioned police strength (men and women) from Uttar Pradesh State due to creation of new battalions and sanctioning of new posts respectively.

Variation in 2009 police strength data of Jharkhand due to furnishing of incorrect data in 2008 as clarified by them.
